

'FIVE FINGER EXERCISE' NEXT PLAY FOR CHAPEL

By BETTY SCHROEDER

Having just completed successful runs of two comedies, Chapel Theatre now brings a play in a slightly more serious vein, "Five Finger Exercise" by Peter Shaffer, to be presented for five weekends, Aug. 23 through Sept. 28, excluding Labor Day Weekend. Director Ed Long, who is the theatre's associate resident director, boasts a powerful cast, including two past performers and three newcomers to Chapel.

Portraying the role of the mother, Margaret Middleton of Redondo Beach is well remembered for her role in "Madwoman of Chaillot," first production presented by Chapel in its then new home in Torrance, two years ago.

THREE NEWCOMERS

Jack Daly of Redondo Beach, the father of this English family, has just concluded appearing in "Houseboat Named Pebbles" and before that in "Devil's Advocate" for Chapel. Newcomers to the playhouse are Robert Ballew, who is the German tutor employed to teach the young daughter Pamela, portrayed by Melinda Plowman, with Dennis Rhodes playing her brother Clive.

The story of "Five Finger Exercise" revolves around Walter, a young German tutor, who is very much alone as the result of World War II. Through his desire for understanding and the need of love, Walter moves the English family to renew their relationship with each other, having drifted apart as a family unit.

ENGROSSING PLAY

Gradual building of tension and dramatic emotion makes this a most exciting and engrossing play, and one in which the actors are given the opportunity to let their emotions run the gamut. Although this is a serious play, there is still the humor and frivolity that you find in real-life families, especially with a teen-age daughter in the cast.

Chapel Theatre is located at 4164 Pacific Coast Highway on Smith Bros. Fish Shanty restaurant property. Admission prices are $1.50 Fridays and Sundays and $1.75 Saturdays, with curtain time 8:30 p.m. Reservations (parties, clubs and organizations have special rates available) may be made by calling FR 2-9636.

Strohmenger Is Promoted to High Banking Position

Cabrillo Savings board of directors has voted to promote Fred Strohmenger to the position of executive vice president and managing officer, it was announced today by Pietro DiCarlo, president and board chairman of the local association.

Strohmenger has been vice president of Cabrillo Savings since its opening in 1961 in Rolling Hills Plaza at Crenshaw and Pacific Coast Highway.

"The election of Mr. Strohmenger is in recognition of his valuable contribution to the excellent growth we have enjoyed, and is part of our program of preparing for the accelerated expansion we expect when we move to our larger offices at the end of this year," Mr. DiCarlo said.

Construction has started on the new Cabrillo headquarters on the southwest corner of the Pacific Coast Highway and Crenshaw intersection.

FRED STROHMENGER

Now near $9 million in assets, Cabrillo Savings has increased its annual rate paid on savings accounts to 4.85 per cent, compounded quarterly. The association is continuing the "bonus" of instant interest.
